1. Employee contributions for the coverage of non-tax-dependents, such as domestic partners and their children, are deducted on a pre-tax basis based on the premium amounts noted above. However, you will also pay taxes on the value of the coverage as imputed income. Imputed income is calculated by subtracting the COBRA premium for Employee Only coverage from the COBRA premium for the coverage you have in effect such as Employee + Spouse in the case of just covering a domestic partner. The difference is your imputed income. COBRA coverage for this purpose is 100% of the unsubsidized cost of coverage and not 102%. The imputed income amount is added to your paycheck as taxable income and results in income tax withholdings.

2. Base salary as of September 1, 2024.

Health Savings Account (HSA) Contribution for 2025

If you enroll in HSA CORE or HSA VALUE, the Company will automatically contribute up to $500 to your HSA — half in January and the other half in July. You can use this account to pay for eligible health care expenses for you and your eligible dependents on a tax-free basis for federal income tax purposes (state laws may vary). The money in your account is always yours.

Note you must be actively employed at the time of the contribution. Also, you must actively opt out of the Company contribution if you are Medicare-eligible and working past age 65, or if you do not wish to receive the Company contribution.
